Tic-Tac-Toe Activities

Your goal is to complete at least 3 activities. See if you can challenge yourself and complete even more!! Color in the squares as you finish them. Each activity can be done on a separate sheet of paper. (See attached)

Map Mari's Miles Mari moved from Raleigh, North Carolina to Phoenix, Arizona. Use a blank map and create the route that Mari and her family took on their drive. Be sure to plan stopping points and landmarks for them to see along the way. Bonus: Figure out how many miles they drove across the country from Raleigh to Phoenix.	Character Name Acrostic Poem Create an acrostic poem for two of the characters in the book. Write their names and then pick adjectives or short phrases with the letters of the character's name. Make sure your words really describe the character. Example: K - kind E - energetic L - loves to write books L - listens to her readers Y - yay for writing!	Rock Stars (You'll need recess to do this.) Collect 3 or 4 interesting rocks at recess or from your yard. Bring them back to the classroom and write about them. Make up a name and describe the personality of each rock. (Just like Jada, Lena and Simone did.) If you have time decorate each rock to match their personality. Bonus: Can you identify the types of rocks you collected? (metamorphic, sedimentary or igneous)
Compare and Contrast Choose 2 of the main characters from the book. Create a Venn Diagram of how these characters are alike and how they are different. Be sure to go back and find specific examples in the text. Bonus: Compare 3 characters and make a triple Venn Diagram	How is Mari Doing? Imagine that you are Mari at her new school in Arizona. Write a new chapter about what her first day is like at her new school. What kind of friends does she make? Is she struggling as much as Jada?	Comic Strip Creator We learned that rocks have personalities. Create a 6 panel comic strip about rocks. (Use the ones you collected from the Rock Stars activity above or draw your own.) What would these rocks say to each other? Have fun, be creative and give the rocks some personality!
What is Simone's Problem? Write a chant, rap, song or rhyme that Simone could say to herself as she jump ropes. Think about what is making her act so mean to Jada.	Miles is Awesome! Think of a science topic you are studying now or learned about already. Create a board game like Miles did. Write facts about your topic on the game board. Ask a classmate to play.	I Know How Jada Feels Have you ever had a friend or family member move away? If so, how did you stay in touch? Write an advice letter/email to Jada telling her what you did to feel better about missing your friend or family member.

Possible Venn diagram to use for Compare and Contrast of 2 characters.

Name : _____ Venn Diagram

Possible map to use for “Map Mari’s Miles”

Possible game board template to use for “Miles is Awesome!” activity. Or be creative and make you own based on your topic.

Possible “Comic Strip Creator” template or create your own out of folded paper.

It's Show Not Tell Time!

Here are some examples of "Show Not Tell" from the book, Jada Jones: Rock Star. Your job is to figure out what the author is showing us about the characters feelings, mood, thoughts and traits. Read each quote from the book and explain what you learned about the character and how she is feeling.

Example: "I groaned and yanked the cover over my head. Thinking about school meant thinking about Mari."

I think the author is trying to show that Jada is not excited to get up and go to school because she is going to miss Mari and school won't be as much fun without her best friend.

"As Miss Taylor filled us in, a spark of excitement flew from my head to my feet. I did a little dance right at my desk."

"My stomach twisted as I thought about the surprise that I had in my cubby at school."

"She faced forward without saying a word. I felt smaller than a pebble."

"Simone wasn't talking to me. And she was giving Lena the Popsicle treatment, too."

Bonus: Now you write a sentence that "shows, not tells" how you would feel if your best friend moved away.

Meet the illustrator of the Jada Jones books: Vanessa Brantley Newton

Take a look at Vanessa Brantley Newton's website:
<http://oohlaladesignstudio.blogspot.com/>

Read part of her biography from the Painted Words website. <http://painted-words.com/portfolio/vanessa-brantley-newton/>

“Vanessa Brantley Newton was born during the Civil Rights movement, and attended school in Newark, NJ. Being part of a diverse, tight-knit community during such turbulent times, Vanessa learned the importance of acceptance and empowerment in shaping a young person’s life. When she read Snowy Day by Ezra Jack Keats, it was the first time she saw herself in a children’s book. It was a defining moment in her life, and has made her into the artist she is today. As an illustrator, she includes children of all ethnic backgrounds in her stories and artwork. She wants all children to see their unique experiences reflected in the books they read, so they can feel the same sense of empowerment and recognition she experienced as a young reader.”

Look at the bold words above. How do you think Ms. Newton has accomplished this through her illustrations in the Jada Jones books?

Bonus: If you were a children’s book illustrator, what would be important for you to show in your pictures?

Double Bonus: Go read Snowy Day by Ezra Jack Keats.
